MOUNTAINEERING - AUTONOMY & SAFETY COURSE - LEVEL 3

Duration: 4

Fitness: ▲▲▲▲▲ Technique: ▲▲▲▲▲

Price from: 945 €

Our Autonomy & Safety courses are designed to help you achieve independent ascents. A key feature of our courses is the exclusive ratio of 3 to 4 participants per guide, ensuring personalized attention and a program fully tailored to your needs. These courses are ideal for those looking to progress step by step, through a learning process focused on self-reliance. Each course includes at least one night in a mountain hut, allowing you to fully experience the atmosphere and unique moments of exchange.

Our Autonomy & Safety - Level 3 course is the final step in our training program. It focuses on progression techniques in trad rock and/or mixed terrain. After a one-day climb, you will set up a base camp with your guide for three days of full immersion in the Mont Blanc massif. Registration requires essential prerequisites to ensure optimal learning: you must be proficient in all belaying techniques in climbing, including abseiling and multi-pitch techniques, and be capable of leading climbs at 5b French grade. You must also have received training in crevasse rescue and have independently completed a mixed route at PD+ level. If you are looking for an experience focused on techniques specific to crack climbing, we recommend our dedicated crack climbing course.

Objectives of the Autonomy & Safety - Level 3 course

- Strengthening your safety management skills in trad rock and/or mixed terrain
- Consolidating your ability to assess and manage risks
- Training in first aid for mountain environments
