MONT BLANC - DUO PACKAGE

Duration: 5

Fitness: ▲▲▲▲▲ Technique: ▲▲▲▲▲

Price from: 2 490 €

Mont Blanc is unquestionably the most famous peak in the Alps. Its first ascent, in 1786, marked a turning point in the development of the Chamonix valley, which after this time was geared towards catering to the flourishing tourist market. Since its creation in 1821, the Compagnie des Guides de Chamonix (Chamonix Guides Company) has been intimately linked to Mont Blanc. Over the years the Compagnie has developed a unique expertise for guiding mountaineers to its summit. Despite its huge reputation, the ascent of Mont Blanc is a genuine challenge requiring a high level of physical fitness and technical skills.

Season after season, global warming has resulted in substantial modifications of glaciers' morphology. The Goûter normal route is no exception. The upper section of the "arête des Bosses", located at about 4600m, has transformed. Today, it can include a very steep part demanding to be perfectly at ease with the use of crampons. In this context, a minimum of two days of mountaineering experience - including the use of crampons - is now mandatory. We invite you to check out our beginner programmes Beginner mountaineering course, Aiguille du Tour, Vincent Pyramid. The originality of this package lies in the small group size. You progress over five days in groups of two (one guide for two clients). Personalised advice from your guide and the flexibility of this package guarantee a high-quality trip and optimise your chances of success. To avoid problems caused by participants not knowing each other, sign up is restricted to pre-existing teams of two only. For solo reservations please see our Mont Blanc - Premium package.

The ascent of Mont Blanc, like all high mountain climbs, depends on weather conditions and the state of the mountain. In the context of global warming, rockfalls on the normal route of the Goûter have become more frequent. By signing up for this trip, you understand that the ascent may not take place due to bad weather or unsatisfactory safety conditions, and you agree to climb another summit instead, for example in the Monte Rosa or Gran Paradiso massif.

Important: as of today, we have no more availabilities due to the Mountain huts on the normal route being full. Please contact us directly if you wish to book.

ITINERARY

Day 1

Day route - Acclimatisation

This first day is designed to help you settle in and get to know your guide. Examples of routes include: Traverse of the Aiguilles Crochues (2840m), Traverse of the Pointes Lachenal (3613m). Nights in the Valley.

Day 2

Day route - Acclimatisation

This second day continues to train your body to adapt to physical effort at altitude. Examples of routes include: Traverse of the Aiguilles Crochues (2840m), Traverse of the Pointes Lachenal (3613m). Nights in the Valley. At the end of this day, your guide will organise a debriefing. Based on your experience he or she may steer you towards a route other than Mont Blanc, if he or she judges that you are not sufficiently ready at that stage.

Day 3

Walk up to the Tête Rousse hut

We take the Bellevue cable car and Tramway du Mont Blanc to the Nid d'Aigle (2372m), from where we set off in the afternoon. A track leads us to the Tête Rousse Hut (3171m), and takes around 2½ hours, altitude difference: +799m. During the closing period of the Tramway du Mont-Blanc (in general before mid-June and after mid-September), this day is dedicated to the climb to the mountain hut, starting from Bellevue (1796m). 4 hours of effort to reach the hut, altitude difference: +1375m.

Day 4

Ascent of Mont Blanc with night in Goûter hut

We leave the Tête Rousse hut in the middle of the night at around 4am. The ascent of the Aiguille du Goûter is partially equipped with cables and leads to the Goûter hut (3835m), altitude difference: +664m. This takes around 2½ hours. We stop at the hut to lighten our packs and have something to eat. Our climb now continues via the shoulder of the Dôme du Goûter (4275m), the 'abri' Vallot (4362m) and the Arête des Bosses which includes a very steep section since 2020. We reach the summit in the middle of the day. From an altitude of 4805.59 m (as measured in 2023) you are afforded exceptional panoramic views. It is now time to start the descent, which follows the same route. The round trip from the Goûter hut takes 6 to 7 hours, altitude difference +-970m.

Descent from the Goûter hut

We leave the hut in the early morning and continue our descent to the Nid d'Aigle, which marks the end of our trip. This takes around 3 or 4 hours of walking. During the closing period of the Tramway du Mont-Blanc (in general before mid-June and after mid-September), the return route goes all the way to Bellevue. 4-5 hours of effort in total.

PRIVATE BOOKING

In order to avoid any problem related to the association of people who do not know each other, only duos can register. If you are alone, you can book the Premium package.

Dates : See below for the private booking module. The dates displayed on our online booking calendar indicate the starting day of the programme.

Info hut : The booking process for mountain huts on the normal route of Mont Blanc doesn't allow us to immediately guarantee your spots. Most spots are confirmed to us in March, prior to your ascent. However, some may only be confirmed during the season or even at the last minute. If we encounter difficulties securing your spots, we will contact you. Otherwise, there's no need to reach out to us about this.

In the rare event that we can't guarantee your spots a few days before departure, we will suggest an alternative ascent route (based on mountain conditions and your skill level) or arrange for the ascent of another summit.

Info early - late season : In general, the Tramway du Mont-Blanc is closed before mid-June and after mid-September. When the lifts are closed, it takes an additional 1h30 on d3 and d5. The ascent is therefore physically more challenging.

Price 2025 : 2490€ per person, based on 2 people
Registration possible from the age of 18.

Included in the package:

- IFMGA English speaking mountain guiding service
- 2 nights with dinner & breakfast (Day 3 & 4)
- 1 bottle of water at the hut (Day 3 & 4)
- tea for the ascent & meal at the Goûter refuge after the ascent on Day 4
- lift access as per programme

Not included in the package :

- accommodation on Day 1 & 2
- personal drinks not mentioned and other personal expenses (we recommend you bring Euros)
- take out lunches and daily snacks
- cost of getting to meeting point
- personal technical equipment including your mountaineering shoes

If you are a group of 3 people :

The guiding policy is 2 people per guide; 2 mountain guides will be necessary

Price 2025 : 3065€ per person based on 3 people

To book, send a request to Célia or Valentina via the contact form

FURTHER INFORMATION

Find in this section, all the information about this activity. For any further information please contact our advisors. To be well prepared, refer to the guides' tips. They share their expertise and recommendations, ensuring you have a great experience.

Meeting point : Meet on the first day at 08:30 at the Compagnie des Guides office at 190 place de l'Eglise in Chamonix.

Ability level : This program is aimed at experienced walkers who regularly take part in activities requiring stamina. Previous mountaineering experience - including at least two days with crampons - is mandatory. Your booking will not be accepted if you do not meet this requirement.

Physical Preparation: Your physical training should begin several months before the ascent, and it should include regular training in endurance sports (2 to 3 times per week). Here are our training suggestions depending on where you live. Mountain Environment: engage in trekking with progressive elevation gain (500m - 800m - 1000m...). You should aim to be able to complete a 1500m ascent/descent trip without encountering difficulties. Urban Environment: focus on running and cycling. When possible, incorporate repetitive elevation gain/drop, even over a short distance. You should strive to be able to run a half marathon at your own pace without encountering difficulties.

Altitude Acclimatization : If the physical preparation starts several months before, acclimatization should take place just a few days before the ascent. This allows your body to acclimatize gradually to the difference in altitude and limits any undesirable effects that might occur. Our program was specifically designed for this with 2 days of acclimatization and 3 days for the ascent.

Programme : The programme is intended as a guide only. It could be modified according to group level, opening periods of cable cars, weather and mountain conditions.

Guiding policy : 2 people per guide for 5 days. The level of supervision, specific to the Compagnie des Guides de Chamonix, optimises your chances of success. Registration possible from the age of 18.

Accommodation : Two nights half-board in a hut (evening meal, breakfast and overnight accommodation).

Our Rental Partners : You can rent your equipment with our rental shops partners and benefit from special price Sanglard Sports, Ravanel & Co & Concept Pro Shop

Documentation : Participants must have mountain sports insurance with repatriation cover. We strongly recommend that this also includes cancellation cover. You can take out insurance when you sign up. Participants must also take valid ID with them.

EQUIPMENT

We recommend you take particular care over you choice of equipment, as it plays a large role in the success of your trip. Weight is critical, and you must always evaluate the weight-to-comfort ratio to find the best compromise. Weather conditions can be extremely variable: from 20°C on the approach route to the hut, to -15°C on the summit (like a cold winter's day in a ski resort). Generally speaking, it is better to put on several thin layers than to have one bulky item of warm clothing, and it is vital that you remain dry at all times.
